

CINTERION
WIRELESS MODULES

A new trusted M2M partner enters the market – Cinterion Wireless Modules!

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

I am glad to announce the birth of a new, market leading M2M player: On Sunday, June 1st, Siemens Wireless Modules will officially become Cinterion Wireless Modules. From this point on, Cinterion Wireless Modules will act as an independent legal entity of its own, with all the freedom and flexibility to follow and shape market opportunities – and thus cater more closely to your specific demands!

Siemens Wireless Modules' launch as Cinterion Wireless Modules is a result of the buy-out of the unit by several competent investors. This strategic move will establish a new, even more dynamic and future-oriented business platform for the to date highly successful Siemens unit with its own unique company name and brand identity.

This is not only good news for us, but above all for you, our clients and partners. Not only will we continue to adhere to those core virtues that we are recognized for and you expect of us, such as the ability to offer innovative products ahead of the market, a farsighted roadmap in response to customer feedback and future trends, best quality, trust-worthiness and reliability and last but not least the most direct and global customer touch.

With this step Cinterion Wireless Modules will also become a more flexible and lean organization strictly focused on just one objective above all: supporting you in developing your business. We will achieve this by combining our new dynamics with the solidity that our clients rely on since the launch of our first module in the mid 90s. This includes maintaining our direct-customer commitment and our well-established technical support network with R&D centers in Germany and Poland as well as globally with our centers and branches spread across the world. Our team remains of course the one you are acquainted with. We would like to assure you: Our employees are enthusiastic about the change and are motivated by the new opportunities it opens up for them.

Thank you for your ongoing confidence in our team and your support in the achievement of our success.

It is a pleasure for us to have you as our customer, we are committed to your business.

Yours sincerely,

N. Muhrer

CEO, Cinterion Wireless Modules
